SANTA ROSA, CA (September 25, 2014) – Today, Wells Fargo Center for the Arts announces that due to ongoing complications brought on by a severe case of pneumonia, five-time Grammy Award-winning jazz pianist and singer Diana Krall has been forced to postpone her scheduled album release, and US Fall Tour, including her November 13 appearance at Wells Fargo Center for the Arts in Santa Rosa. Diana Krall’s new studio album “Wallflower” (Verve Records) was due for North American release on October 21 and the US leg of her “Wallflower World Tour” was to kick off in Phoenix, AZ on November 7.

Ticket holders will automatically be issued a refund for their ticket purchases. Patrons who purchased tickets with a credit card will receive a refund to that card within 5 – 7 business days. Patrons who purchased tickets by cash or check will be mailed a refund check within 14 business days. Questions about this refund process can be directed to the Wells Fargo Center for the Arts ticket office at 707.546.3600, which is open daily from 12 – 6pm.

Diana’s condition has become much more chronic than first anticipated, and she is unable to travel or engage in any promotional or touring activities for at least another 6 weeks to 2 months.

Ms. Krall is extremely disappointed to have to announce this, but also realizes that, upon advice of her doctors, this is the only course of action available to her at this time to ensure a full recovery.

She issued the following statement:

“I’m deeply saddened that I will have to postpone the release of my new album ‘Wallflower’ and the ‘Wallflower U.S Fall Tour’ until next year.”

"I've been battling a severe case of pneumonia and am under doctor's orders to rest for the next few months in order to regain my strength and good health.

"Performing is both a privilege and joy for me. When I go out on stage I want to be able to give it everything. Taking this time to rest and recuperate will allow me to do that. It is frustrating to be so close to the record release and have to delay but I am very proud of this record and want to be able to give you all my very best when we finally present this music to you. Thank you so much for your understanding."

Ms. Krall looks forward to announcing a new date for the album release and full World Tour in the coming weeks. Please stay tuned for further information.
